

“We are recognized leaders in providing a balanced approach to natural resource management for our communities and for the environment”

Position Announcement: Environmental Planner

Northwest Management, Inc. (NMI), is a rapidly growing natural resource consulting firm based in Moscow, Idaho (website). We are a team of hard-working individuals with a variety of natural resource experience. We aim to inspire forestry, and all that relates, in everything that we do (video). Our team is seeking motivated individuals with diverse education and/or experience to serve the growing needs of our clients.

This position will require self-motivated individuals who enjoy large-scale natural resource related planning efforts and who have a vision for the future. Applicants must have the ability to work independently with minimal supervision, in small team settings, and within a larger interdisciplinary team. This position will require travel and applicants should anticipate work away from Moscow, Idaho for approximately 10% of the year.
